

CAUTHE 2010 PhD Scholars' Workshop

The CAUTHE Executive is delighted to announce the annual CAUTHE PhD Scholars' Workshop to be held immediately prior to the Conference, on Monday 8 February. The School of Management, University of Tasmania, in conjunction with CAUTHE, will host the workshop at the Grand Chancellor Hotel in historic Hobart.

Workshop Programme

Workshop program details, including speakers and sessions, will be progressively released on the conference website. The program will be innovative, engaging and useful for all PhD scholars – no matter what stage you are at. A highlight of the workshop will be the opportunity to personally discuss your research with eminent academics from Australia and overseas.

Workshop Cost

Discount fee $50 (for fulltime students registered to attend the 2010 CAUTHE conference):

Standard fee: $100

Cost includes food and refreshments for the day, speakers and materials such as handouts.

Workshop Testimonials

Doing a PhD is not an easy task! The workshop provides an opportunity to increase your motivation, knowledge and networks. Previous attendees have gained enormously from the workshops. Selected comments include:

"I was really impressed with the line-up of experienced academics who attended the workshop to give us the benefit of their research and supervisory expertise."

"A VERY useful workshop."

"Thank you for your efforts in arranging the workshop which I thoroughly enjoyed attending."

"... made some new PhD friends to hang out with at the conference...and with whom I will definitely keep in touch."

Conference Theme

For those PhD scholars planning to attend the CAUTHE Conference, the overall theme is Tourism and Hospitality - Challenge the Limits.

Take the opportunity to challenge the limits in a series of thought-provoking presentations across a variety of areas including:

- heritage tourism
- ethical & sustainable tourism
- place & destination management
- consumer demand for tourism & hospitality
- tourism & hospitality education
- challenging the right to travel

For further details on themes and paper submission contact the Chair of the Scientific Committee, Dr Alison Dunn at: CAUTHE.2010@utas.edu.au

For any general enquiries on the PhD Scholars' Workshop please contact Dr Brent Ritchie in the first instance at: b.ritchie1@uq.edu.au

Conference Website

Scholars will be able to register their attendance at the workshop on the Conference website later this year. The website will provide regular updates on the PhD workshop and Conference program; links to accommodation in and around the Conference venue; and suggestions for pre and post conference touring.

www.cauthe.com.au/conference2010.html